

Chapter Two

The claims of Christ

1. Why should an investigation into Christianity begin with the person of Jesus Christ?

---
2. How would you justify the use of the Gospels as reliable sources of information about Jesus?

---
3. What are the three main strands of evidence which lead to the conclusion that Jesus is 'worthy not just of our admiration, but also of our worship'?

---
4. What is so remarkable about the self-centredness of Jesus' teaching?

---
5. In what ways did Jesus claim, both directly and indirectly, to be the Son of God?

---
6. Why would it be wrong simply to label Jesus as a 'great teacher'?

---
